Spring serenade tonight

Students and townspeople will swing and sway to the sweet serenades of University coeds tonight at the Spring Serenade. The contest will be held on the oval at 8:00 o'clock and will feature seven women's organizations competing for the title of top campus serenaders.

Sponsored by Newman Club, the event is the first campus song contest for several years and is probably the first to be held outdoors on the oval.

Participating choruses include Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Phi, Sigma Kappa, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Gamma, Delta

Delta Delta and New Hall.

Intermission favorites will be sung by two non-competing groups, the Co-op Trio and the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity Chorus.

Judges for the contest will be Professors John Crowder, John Lester, Aden Arnold, Harvey Baty and Counselor Catherine Nutterville.

In the event of rain, arrangements have been made to hold the contest in the Men's Gymnasium.

Jerry Lester, Miles City, is in charge.

Flat hats tap nine, Spurs take twenty-four at SOS

Nine new Mortar Board members and 24 fledgling Spurs were tapped at SOS last night. Spurs, in gleaming white, came out of Main Hall first, to pass their spurs on to next year's sophomore group. Mortar Board members in their flowing black robes presented their hats to a small group of juniors as a symbol of the highest honor for MSU women.

Mortar Board members serenaded houses with prospective pledges Wednesday night. Spurs rose with the dawn yesterday morning and roused their new members with a telegram and lusty singing.

Mortar Board tapped the following girls: Flora Mae Bellefleur, Creston; Marilyn Hillstrand, Great Falls; Jean Livdahl, Malta; Mandi Luebben, Dillon; Lois Pat Nelson, Missoula; Ruth Olcott, Red Lodge; Joyce Phillips, Kalispell, and Janet Reinertson, Hot Springs.

Bue to summer in Oklahoma

Another step forward in the study of radio journalism will be taken this summer by Prof. Olaf J. Bue of the School of Journalism, who has just received notice of his appointment to a three month's summer internship in the news department of radio station KVOO in Tulsa, Okla.

The internship is made possible through the cooperation of the National Association of Broadcasters and the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism. The program is designed to give additional practical training to journalism school instructors in the handling of radio news courses.

The opportunity for this training is being offered to instructors in all of the 34 accredited AASDJ schools by the larger radio stations in the country.

"KVOO is distinguished for its excellent news handling," Professor Bue said, "and I hope to pick up a lot of practical experience."

Over 200 visiting students expected; university to have no official entertainment

At 1:30 this afternoon the annual Montana Interscholastic Trackmeet will open on Dornblaser Field. Entrants have been received from 15 class A schools and 34 class B schools according to Ray Reid of the Missoula Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event this year. Reid said he is expecting over 200 entrants from schools throughout the state.

No plans have been made by the university to entertain the high school visitors but fraternities and sororities, Spurs and various other organizations have planned dances, open houses, etc.

University students who have purchased tickets in advance at the Student Union business office will be admitted if they present their ticket and their associated students card at the gate this afternoon and Saturday. Prices to those students who have not purchased tickets in advance will be 40 cents for each day.

Greek-letter houses have extended special invitations for high-school guests. Special decorations are being put up by some organizations, and other efforts are being made to welcome the visitors to the campus.

There will be a very important meeting of the Kaimin Ad Staff Tuesday at 5 p.m. in J303. Everyone please be there.

The most wonderful things happen to photogs

Marilyn Hillstrand was covering an assignment at SOS last night. Her photography instructor, Andy Cogswell, gave Marilyn the task of photographing the new initiates of Mortar Board.

Marilyn arrived on the scene gaily and was precariously aiming for an exclusive shot as the names were being called. Just as she was about to snap the picture, she heard her name pronounced distinctly over the mike, "Marilyn Hillstrand." The shock was too much. It took some few minutes for her to realize what it meant, and meantime she dropped her camera.

So Marilyn got in the Mortar Board picture.

Farce and variety are served to convo audience this morning as students greet high schoolers

Joe Gibney is MC, Stadstad, Phillips, Berg, star in corn and ham playlet

A drama depicting needed curriculum change plus a half hour of musical performances packed today's convo full of entertainment.

With Joe Gibney, Worden, as master of ceremonies, the musical half of the convo presented the Co-op Trio—Leona Lampi, Red Lodge; June Sanders, Troy, and Janet Reinertson, Hot Springs—who blended in close harmony in several songs. The Halter twins, Sunburst, entertained with a fast tap dance routine.

In a series of humorous scenes charged with campus lowdowns, student actors pointed out where changes are needed in the curriculum. Written by Curtis Stadstad, Raymond, the humorous farce portrayed two students coming from high school to college.

Aaron Phillips, Bozeman, and Twila Bergh, Harlem, carried the main roles under their own names. Curtis Stadstad was the narrator between the scenes. Also in the cast were Allen Lewis, Livingston; Elizabeth Withrow, Square Butte; Philip Sinclair, Glasgow; Audrey Averill, Collins; Carl Lamb, Billings; Pete Small, Missoula; Lew Burdick, Butte; Harris Hogan, Missoula; Colleen McCool, Butte, and Anna Vee Mather, Glasgow.

Martha Clark Gasser, Missoula, sang. On the novelty side, Tannis Brown, Missoula, lent her talents in a song, costume and character number.

Bob James, Simms, and Polly Schneider, Sheridan, went together in a piano performance.

Student suggestions to the curriculum planning committee as brought out by the narrator were: "Some students want general courses corresponding to the survey courses over a variety of subjects."

"Other students want to develop the skill of writing and speaking before going into specialized and technical professions."

"Psychological tests, counselor service and guidance are necessary."

"There is one set of skills that is essential to everyone's life—it includes, health, home life and how to run a home. The most valuable service a college could give a student would be a thorough course in home management, marriage responsibility and personality development."

Lost—Blue Shaeffer lifetime pen. Reward. Carl Lamb, Corbin Hall.

Taking our case to the people...

The Kaimin is the newspaper of the Associated Students of Montana State University. In the past they have had almost no say as to how they wanted their paper administered. I, as editor, wish to extend to the students this chance.

As you may have noticed the past four issues of your newspaper have differed somewhat from previous issues. These four issues represent a change in editorial policy. We have made opinion dominant. We have given opinionated articles the nod over news articles in many cases because we believe the students want it that way. We have given much space to pictures and cartoons. True, they have not been of the best quality, but they are the best we can obtain under the present setup. We believe that these pictures have been worth the precious space they occupied. We have changed our headline style somewhat with the intention of improving reader interest. Everything has been done to make the Kaimin what we believe to be a more interesting paper.

After our Tuesday issue it was called to our attention that perhaps we were pursuing the wrong course. Perhaps we were wrong in assuming that we knew what the students of MSU want in their paper. We were advised to cut down on our opinionated stuff and include more news (service news, sorority softball games, etc.) Now the people who advised that we do this were persons who should know what they are talking about as far as journalistic excellence is concerned, for they have long been in the field. The only fault that we find with their reasoning is that we don't think they know what the students of MSU want in their paper. Perhaps we are wrong and that's where you, the owners of the paper, come in.

We want you, by letter, phone call, or petition, to express your feeling on this point. We of the editorial staff will abide by your decision. Just let us know if you want the paper to continue as it has for the past four issues, or if you want us to revert to the style of our forerunners in this office. We will abide by the majority opinion. Thank you.—Robert C. Blair.

The coming thing...

In Tuesday's issue of the Kaimin we gave a bare outline of our proposed publicity bureau. Comment we have received to date has been overwhelmingly favorable. The bureau, we believe, has a good chance of success.

It is interesting to note in passing, that this same idea is being proposed on other campuses. The Gateway, student paper of the University of Alberta, was calling for a publicity bureau several months before we took over the Kaimin editorship. An excerpt from one of the editorials appearing in the Canadian university paper in behalf of the establishment of a publicity bureau, reads as follows:

"A publicity bureau which would incorporate all the talents of those interested in the advertising and promotional aspects of varsity functions, would, after becoming properly established, be able to determine what public, what field, is most suitable for each function. Toward this public they would direct their effort. Waste and superfluous expense would be eliminated. With experience would come efficiency. Publicity would become a specialty. The bureau would be sufficiently large to employ all those interested. It would be valuable training for many who are interested in commerce, business, or the promotional angle of any enterprise."

The trend, to quote Jane Jeffers, new ASMSU president, is toward "cooperation, coordination and efficiency." A live publicity bureau is in tune with the trend. If you like the idea tell your class representative on Central Board. He will have the opportunity to vote on it before long.

Where's the party—Joe?

Wednesday's Central Board meeting was one of the most lively we can remember. Jane Jeffers conducted her first meeting with an air of sureness that bodes an efficient administration. Several students turned out to bemoan the lack of preparation, on the part of the university and the association, for entertaining the high schoolers who will visit MSU this week end. These students pointed out that the university goes to the trouble and expense to send professors around the state to convince high school seniors that our university is the school for them, and then, when the high school students come to MSU for a week end, they are left to shift for themselves. No tour or any sort of entertainment on the campus has been planned for them.

It was brought out at Central Board that Dr. Melby and Dr. Renne of Montana State College in Bozeman, had some sort of agreement that neither would endeavor to snare high school students by entertaining them on their respective campuses. It was also brought out that Dr. Melby had issued orders to the effect that the Student Union Building ballrooms be closed to any form of merriment solely for the benefit of the high school visitors.

Dr. Melby is out of town at present but we have arranged to see him Sunday afternoon to find out the facts of the case. Until then it is only fair that students withhold opinions.

In as much as there was no public notice posted forbidding independent organizations from having dances or parties, these organizations should go ahead with their hastily formulated plans for some sort of entertainment. We wish them every success.

MONTANA STATE UNIVERSITY ASSOCIATED STUDENTS' BUDGET FOR 1945-46 Submitted for Approval

Budget and Finance Committee to Central Board

The Budget and Finance Committee had a series of consultations and meetings for the purpose of preparing a budget for 1945-46. The committee presents this budget based upon an estimated average attendance of 900 students per quarter. In the event income from activity fee is in excess, it is to be placed in the General ASMSU Operating Fund subject to later appropriations.

Recommendations submitted for Central Board and Administrations' Approval

I. That the student activity fee collected by the Business Office be distributed according to the attached schedule. Activities having incomes from other sources such as subscriptions, gate receipts, and so forth, are to have the benefits of the income with the exception of the Masquers.

II. Masquers Over all appropriation is $1,050.00, but the net appropriation for the student admissions is the $1,050.00 less whatever income is received from the plays which is returned to AMSU General Operating Fund.

III. Debate and Oratory and Band. We recommend that something be made available next year when the directors know what their programs will be.

IV. After all obligations incurred this year from the Sentinel have been paid, we recommend that the balance revert into a special reserve fund to be used for the purchase of photography equipment. This is to be used under the director of the Sentinel editors and advisor. The equipment is to be made available for general student use when not in use for Sentinel purposes.

V. After all obligations incurred this year have been paid, any balances left in the following organizations should revert back to the general reserve fund: Senior class, outside entertainment. All other balances are to be carried over to their respective activities.

V. We recognize that conditions are abnormal and that budgets as recommended here might need revision next fall when they know better what their programs will be.

Psychos survey in Hamilton

A group of psychology and Field Work in Sociology students were in Hamilton Friday to participate in a child guidance survey there. Under the direction of Dr. Catherine Nutterville, sociology lecturer, the survey was sponsored by Miss Mabel Lindstadt, county superintendent of schools, and Charles D. Haynes, superintendent of schools in Hamilton.

During the day the group tested the children, interviewed their parents, and went over the case histories with their teachers.

Those who took part in the survey were Lucille Roholt, Brown; Janice Kelley, Hardin; Mary Brome, Missoula, and Mrs. Jessie Perkins and Mrs. Laura Landis of the nursery school.

Times are hard all over

One university coed, discouraged by the manpower shortage, swooped down on one of the male species from the kindergarten department. This (get 'em young and raise 'em right) gal dashed up to one little 4-year-old and said sweetly, "If you hurry up, I'll walk with you." Dismayed and dumfounded, she listened to his disdainful reply, "Is this trip really necessary?"

Ex-queen visits MSU

Irene Gladstone, ex-'44, actress from Spokane, visited the campus this week. While attending school here, the elusive Miss Gladstone gained the title of "MSU beauty with brains."

She is well-known on the campus and will be remembered as one of the final candidates in the "Best Date" contest sponsored last year by the ASTP unit.

"It looks like everyone is lively," she remarked about school affairs. "Especially in election spirit."

Miss Gladstone returned yesterday to Spokane where she will begin rehearsal immediately on a new play. She recently obtained the star role in the successful road show, "Mysterious Lady."

Betty writes Mary

Betty Bailey '45, who received her degree in dietetics here last quarter, is now living in Detroit, where she works in the foods laboratory of Detroit Edison. She left for Detroit soon after graduation.

Miss Bailey, in a letter to Dean Mary Elrod Ferguson, said that she is living with Betty Holmes '43, who is also working for Detroit Edison. Also in Detroit she saw Rossi Schweitzer, who was social director of North Hall from 1939 to 1941.

At the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Miss Bailey met Bob Orser, ex-'45, who is attending school there. While at MSU, Bob was a member of Theta Chi fraternity and sang with the university quartet.

Miss Bailey said that she liked Detroit and is enjoying her work.

Sullivan killed on Okinawa

Charles "Chuck" Sullivan, ex-'45, was killed in action on Okinawa April 9 while serving with the 96th Division on that Japanese stronghold. The information came to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Sullivan, 610 Blaine street.

The popular former university student was also in the invasion of Leyte. He received the Purple Heart for wounds he got there and was sent to a hospital in New Guinea. When released from the hospital he went to the Philippines.

Chuck attended the university in 1941 and 1942 before he enlisted in the service. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The former basketball and baseball star at Missoula High School was last home on furlough in June.

Now girls suggest smoke signals

A gentle freshman was called to one of the Hall phones Tuesday. "Hi," a male voice rumbled pleasantly.

"Hi," answered the girl. A long, low whistle resounded from the other end of the line followed by a hasty click of the receiver.

Land of Sphinx may send students to MSU via mail

BY PAT NELSON

From the land of the Nile Delta, the sphinx and the pyramids came a request this month to MSU's Division of Extension and Public Service for information concerning correspondence study. The card, postmarked Feb. 3, 1945 from Cairo, Egypt, is signed with a typical Egyptian name, Omar Hassan. The handwriting is bold and clear. The address side of the card is covered with unusual postmarks, Egyptian words and hieroglyphics—strange markings that look like shorthand characters.

Miss Mary Margaret Courtney, secretary of the department, said that she hopes the Egyptian will register for correspondence study. "I'd like to know how he happened to choose our university. I'd like to know, too what his background is. For judging from his writing and vocabulary, he is well educated."

The correspondence study catalog is on its way to Cairo. And perhaps before long the Egyptian will be coming to MSU—by mail.

On the heels of the information concerning the Egyptian scholar, Miss Courtney announced that the Division of Extension and Public Service last week issued its 10,000th certificate of credit for correspondence study. This signifies that 10,000 students have completed the university's correspondence courses during the 34 years that the service has been available.

The department was begun in 1911 to extend the means and privileges of academic training to a greater number of people throughout the state. A wide scope of study was offered: Latin, German, English, literature, education, economics, biology, forestry, physics, mathematics and engineering. The lectures went through the mail to people unable to leave home and employment to attend the university.

In 1913 the state legislature appropriated $1,000 to finance the department.

People from every town in Montana, every state in the union, as well as Canada and Alaska, have been enrolled in the university's correspondence study. At the present time, 206 servicemen are registered.

Men's softball schedule is announced

Members of the five operating fraternities have gotten together and organized a softball league which is apart in every respect from the University Intramural League. Rules and regulations are on this page. The schedule operates on a round-robin basis with each team meeting the other twice. The schedule is as follows:

Phi Delta Theta vs. SAE, May 10 and May 23; Sigma Nu vs. Theta Chi, May 10 and May 23; Sigma Chi vs. Phi Delta Theta, May 14 and May 24; SAE vs. Sigma Nu, May 14 and May 24; Theta Chi vs. Sigma Chi, May 16 and May 28; Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Nu, May 16 and May 28; SAE vs. Theta Chi, May 17 and May 30; Sigma Chi vs. Sigma Nu, May 17 and May 30; Sigma Chi vs. SAE, May 21 and May 31; Phi Delta Theta vs. Theta Chi, May 21 and May 31.

Jitney dances tonight

All sorority houses will be open for jitney dances tonight immediately after the spring serenade. There will be dancing in all the houses until about 12 p.m. High school as well as university students are invited. Admission will be five cents per person at each house. Students are urged to go to all the houses sometime during the evening.

Bull's eye...

"The Women's Rifle Team is doing very well," stated Coach Stanek, as his "Annie Oakleys" completed the third stage of competition firing.

The girls have fired at prone, sitting and kneeling positions and will start today shooting at the standing position.

Wanda Kilpatrick, Hardin, Mary Jane Lindstrom, Carlyle, and Mary Kidd, Deer Lodge, top the list with a score of 72 out of a possible 75.

Marjorie Orner, Lewistown, and Jo Ann Tripp, Winnett, follow closely with 71; Lois Cook, Clinton, 70; and Lillian Wedum with the score of 69.

"Marigail Jones, Lewistown, was one of the leading scorers until she became ill," Stanek said.

Attention Girls...

Post-election bitterness prompted someone to post an issue of the Oregon State Barometer from Oregon State College on one of the front doors of the Student Union last week. On the top of the page were pictures of new campus officers there. Over half of them were men.

Another note in a different scrawl added, "Maybe there are still some men at Oregon."

BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS!

Men's Softball League rules

1. Regular softball rules will be used.
2. Unless a team can field seven men, the game must be forfeited.
3. The games start at 7 p.m., and the game is automatically forfeited if one team cannot field the required number of men by 7:20.
4. The time and place of the game can be changed, if both teams involved agree, and there are no other conflicts.
5. If cleated shoes are to be used, only baseball cleats will be allowed.
6. If a player is injured, he is responsible for his injury.
7. No players will be allowed to play on a team, unless his name is listed on that team's roster.
8. The umpires used must be agreeable to both teams involved.
9. The series will be run off with every team playing every other team twice. At the end of the league play, the team in first place is the winner of the league competition. In case of first or second place tie, the games will be played off.
10. Because some houses have encountered a shortage of available men, the following arrangements have been worked out. Sigma Chi are allowed to pick six men from the independents to play with them; Theta Chi, three independents; Sigma Nu, two independents, and Phi Delta Theta, one independent.
11. No trophy will be presented, but the three losing teams are obligated to sponsor a picnic for the members of the league teams. Only the men who have played in five of the eight games will be allowed to go on this picnic.
12. All team members must be enrolled in Montana State University.

Yovetich, well known about the campus, is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and hails from Butte.
